

Retail sales and customer services

Retailing is about selling things to customers. Customer services is about making sure that the customers are happy. This includes answering questions and dealing with problems. No exam level jobs...

Butcher

Butchers cut up meat and sell it to customers. They use very sharp knives and saws. They tell customers how to cook the meat and give them ideas for dishes they can cook. Some butchers make sausages and pies using the meat they prepare.

Checkout Operator

Checkout Operators work at the till in supermarkets and other shops. Most items have a barcode on them. The checkout operator passes this over a scanning machine. This tells the till how much the item costs.

Market Traders

Market Traders sell things from market stalls. Examples include fruit and vegetables, flowers, meat, sweets, books, and clothes. They could work in a street market, an indoor market or a farmers' market.

World of Work

Doncaster

@opportunitiesDN

www.opportunitiesdoncaster.co.uk

With thanks to

